After over thirty years in the construction business with large construction management firms in Chicago, Joe LaPaglia decided to continue his service locally in the fall of 2009. Joe is the President of a Design/Build firm, Jaeger, Nickola – Architecture, Construction & Engineering, JN-ACE, with primary offices in Park Ridge, Illinois.

JN-ACE, the construction division of a fifty year old Architectural firm, Jaeger, Nickola and Associates, Ltd., is a planning, design and construction firm serving primarily not-for-profit entities in the Chicago metropolitan area. JNA has designed over 400 churches in the Chicago area in the last half century. It was Joe's construction group, allows JN-ACE to serve local congregations and assist them in achieving their vision for ministry in the community.

Riviera Consortium, an adjunct business based in the Promenade, specializes in facility management of schools and churches. Riviera Consortium manages facilities for Wheatland Salem Church in Naperville and Oswego, as well as church campuses for Community Christian Church in Naperville and Plainfield.

Riviera Consortium also develops and maintains student housing residences on college campuses across the state. Riviera has new projects in planning and set to move into construction in 2011.

Joe has enjoyed the Main Street Promenade because of the convenient location to his home, clients, and team offices.
