Sandra Price is a financial planner through Ameriprise Financial. While she works with many different types of clients, her specialty is in working with women; women businesses, women who are going through or recovering from divorce, who find a great need for financial planning. Since her practice focuses primarily on women, being located in downtown Naperville is not only convenient but provides her clients with many appealing options for dining and shopping. Sandra finds the location of the Main Street Promenade to be a real benefit to her and her business.

“Being located in the Main Street Promenade has opened my eyes to a lot of opportunities that I didn’t really realize before.”
~Sandra Price

Sandra enjoys the downtown area and feels it is appealing to women. “One of the really great things about what we do as a community is how we engage families to encourage them to come into the downtown area” says Sandra. Whenever there is a downtown event or community activity, Sandra makes a point to forward the information out to her clients so they can start embracing the Promenade and the downtown area. Sandra has partnered with downtown businesses such as Lillian’s, La Chocolate, Rocky Mountain Chocolate and some of the other businesses that her clients would use their services.
