Mike Bratsos is a CPA, who practices public accounting out of his office at the Main Street Promenade, helping individuals and businesses with their tax and accounting needs. He has been in public practice for his entire career working for a couple of local CPA firms for about 20 years before starting his own practice and moving it to Naperville in 2001.

Mike's feels his experience working for small firms has served him well because that environment has offered him the opportunity to experience all facets of public accounting instead of being confined to a specific area like what may happen in a larger firm. His breadth of experience, as well as earning his MBA in finance, has been integral in retaining and attracting clients.

Mike's clients include individuals, small businesses, and various not-for-profit organizations. He has lived in Naperville for 28 years and his business celebrates ten years in Naperville!

place to work" says Mike. "The building is "lively" in a business sense, especially with the Naperville Chamber of Commerce being down the hall." Mike has taken advantage of his Chamber membership and has joined a couple of networking committees within the Chamber which has resulted in significant referral business.
